Since 1976, the PRC has been a leading force in fine art photography both regionally and nationally. In our 36 year history, many of the world's most celebrated photographers, scholars, critics, and curators have intersected with the organization through exhibitions, lectures, workshops, and publications.

On Saturday, October 13, we will host the PRC 2012 Benefit Auction. This annual event is an exciting opportunity for the photography, art, collecting, and gallery communities to celebrate our important Boston-based cultural institution. By showing your support, the PRC can continue its compelling work of providing quality programming to support fine art and creative photography in New England.
